

SEMI-WEEKLY SOUTH KENTUCKIAN
CHAS. M. MEACHAM, Editor.
FRIDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1888.

HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY.
A live and growing city of 8,000 inhabitants, situated in a county of 40,000. The Louisville and Nashville has two lines of railroad in the county and the people here are rapidly voting in two new roads. Largest tobacco growing county in the world. Wheat, corn, hay, cotton, stock and fruits produced for export in large quantities. The city has four banks with an aggregate capital of $1,000,000. A planing mill and wagon factory, three carriage factories, line factory, tobacco manufactory, two foundries, three blacksmiths, iron factory, steam laundry, ice factory, two large flouring mills in the city and several in the county. Splendid driving park and fine opera house. Fine tennis courts in Hopkinstown. Building and Loan Association, Commercial Club, a telephone exchange, numbered streets and houses and city lighted by gas. Macadamized streets and brick sidewalks all over the city. Eleven churches, two colleges, a high school and the finest system of public schools, white and colored, in the State. Western Kentucky Lumber Association with a population of 60,000, two miles east of the city. A $100,000 court house with town clock in the dome. A fire department and a company of State Guards. Little River furnishes an adequate supply of water for all purposes. Real estate low and rents cheap. Fine opening for wooden mill, pork packing establishment, fruit cannery, hayrack and many other enterprises. Climate mild and invigorating and exceedingly healthy.

THE CITY ELECTION.

Justice to myself requires me to make this statement.
The Charter of the city of Hopkinsville, Sec. 10 Article 7 provides:
"The poll books of all elections in the city shall be returned by the several Sheriffs of elections to the Clerk of the city who shall keep them on file as a part of the records of his office, and issue certificates to the officers elected."

In county elections the General Statutes of Kentucky makes the County Judge, Clerk and Sheriff an examining or comparing board, and section 2 Article 3 of chapter 33 directs said officers as a board to "compare the polls, ascertain the correctness of the summing up of the votes and give certificates of election to those receiving the highest number of votes."

They are required to compare the polls and ascertain the correctness of the summing up of the votes. They are only ministerial officers (not judges) and can only do what the statute in plain terms directs them to do and no more.

As City Clerk I am only a ministerial officer and can only legally do what in the charter plain terms tells me to do. If a law is uncertain and liable to be construed two ways a ministerial officer should be very careful how he acts under it.

The part of the charter already quoted does not direct the City Clerk to compare the poll book, or sum or add up the votes cast like the General Statutes directs a county board to do.

My opinion is, the charter does not provide for any comparing or canvassing board, but simply directs the City Clerk to certify and issue certificates of election to the officers elected, and then leaves the whole matter to the City Council to correct errors.

It only says the City Clerk shall file the book and issue certificates to the officers elected, therefore there is no authority to be found for the City Clerk to compare the poll book or sum or add up any of the votes or correct any kind of mistakes the officers of the election may have made, and whoever the officers of city election have certified are elected the City Clerk must certify and let all mistakes and errors go before the City Councilmen who by the charter Sec. 8, Art. 7 are made the "judges of the qualifications, election and returns of its members," and thereby made a canvassing board before whom all questions come up and by whom they are to be settled.

The City Charter, Sec. 2, Art. 7, provides "Officers of city election shall be governed in all matters not inconsistent with this charter, by the laws of this state governing elections for State officers." The foregoing provision only applies to officers of city elections who are the Judges, Clerks and Sheriffs of the election, and as the City Clerk is not an officer of the city election, does not extend to and include him.

The case of Hammett against Barnes & Co., 4 Bush, page 391, was a case that went to the Court of Appeals from Princeton, Ky., over the election of a town Marshal of Princeton at a town election and the Court of Appeals of Kentucky in that case decided that the general laws regulating examining boards in State and county elections don't apply to town elections.

By reference to American decisions Vol. 60, page 773, I find a syllabus of two cases one decided by the Supreme Court of Illinois and the other of Michigan as follows: "Board of canvassers of elections are bound to go by the certificates of the judges and clerk of the election." From which it is evident that the general laws of these states do not as in Kentucky, authorize a canvassing board to sum or add up the votes on the poll book to correct errors in addition and except for the provision in the General Statutes of Kentucky the county boards in this state could do nothing but act on the certificate of the officers of the election. From the laws referred to and cited it is clear a matter of serious doubt whether or not the City Charter authorizes the City Clerk to do anything more than let the certificate of the officers of the election and if it is a matter of serious doubt a ministerial officer like a City Clerk should presume to assume authority.

I have given this question as close and thorough investigation as the time allowed me would admit, and the result of that investigation is that I do not believe under the laws the City Clerk has any legal power or authority to correct any mistakes or errors made by the Officers of the election but can only take their addition and count as correct, and by reference to the poll book I find that it did and certified over their official signatures that Messrs. Campbell, Gilliland, Brown, Hill, Forbes, Dabney and Radford received the highest number of votes and I have issued a certificate that they have been elected Councilmen.

There is no doubt that officers of the election made mistakes in addition and otherwise, but the charter in my opinion provides that those errors shall be rectified by other authority than the City Clerk.

Having given the foregoing reasons for my action, I now desire to allude to some matters personally to myself. After the polls were closed Saturday night because of the excited crowd in the City Court room, the officers of the election repaired to my office where they would be undisturbed, to count up the vote and write and sign their certificate.

The laws did not require them to be alone and because I had to wait until they finished so they could deliver the poll book to me I remained but not as an Official and the Sheriff and Clerk of the election added up the various columns and the Clerk wrote out a certificate and they signed it, as they were leaving a crowd of persons was standing outside at my office window eager to hear the result and as a consequence I raised the window and read to them what the officers had figured up.

I made no official proclamation or capacity but as any private citizen I would have done read to them what the officers had figured out.

When the officers finished this work they delivered the book to me as the charter directs and I closed it immediately and placed it away in a safe place where no one would have access to it and it remained there and was not again opened by myself or any one else or in the possession or handling by any one until I closed it Monday.

On Sunday morning a gentleman who is a republican and earnest friend and supporter of the old board came to me and asked permission to open and look at the book in my presence. I told him it was a public record and he like every one else had a right to see and look at it under proper circumstances, but I did not think it was right for me to permit him to open and see it that day and that he could not do so, but that he could see it the next day.

Monday morning I told the gentleman that at 1 o'clock that day and after that hour he and all other persons wishing to do so, but only at the look in my presence and I then looked up and found two respectable gentlemen, friends and supporters of the new board and Democrats, and one at 1 o'clock I would open the poll book and permit any and all persons to examine it in my presence and that I desired when I opened it that at least two on each side should be present and examine it before any one could have any chance to mutilate or change it. One of those gentlemen said he did not have time to come or did not desire to come or words to that effect, the other said he would come and bring some one with him but in about an hour he came to my office and we filed up the book. The new board had taken legal counsel and did not wish to be present or participate in any recount. I very politely told him there was no opportunity given to every one to see the book because, when first opened I preferred someone on each side should be present, but he and others could do as they pleased. I then turned to the gentleman who had brought me to the book and he said he would send any one down he wished to look at it.

At or about 1 o'clock Monday Harry Ferguson and Otto Anderson came into my office, and after waiting a short time to see if others would come, I got out and opened the book on my table, and about that time Mr. Bell, local editor on the New Era, came in and in my presence, these three gentlemen examined the book and made notes of such things as they wished, but none of them touched pen or pencil to the book and no mark of pen or pencil has been made on or in the election officers turned it back to me.

While these gentlemen were looking at it to satisfy their curiosity, I also looked at it and made some notes on a slip of paper.

During all this time my office door was not locked and any person who desired could have come in, and since then various other gentlemen have looked at the book in my presence. Since one o'clock Monday I have permitted every one who called and asked to look in and examine it in my presence, because it is a public document and I have no right to refuse citizens on all proper occasions to see and examine it, but none of them have or will be permitted to make a pen or pencil mark on it.

Within an hour or two after one o'clock Monday the report was spread on the streets that a recount was going on by another board, that the book was being tampered with and changed and a great fraud perpetrated, and as I have been repeatedly informed, I was all that afternoon and pretty much ever since, by a great many persons abused, cursed and vilified almost without limit, and not in my hearing, and one of the newspapers of the city has published abusive editorials about me with flaming headlines and saying things to fan the flames of public excitement, and intimating that I was treacherous and needed to be watched. In addition to all that, all manner of false reports have been going the rounds of the city as to what I have said from time to time in reference to giving certificates of election.

Many persons have asked me many questions as to what I was going to do and to whom I was going to give certificates of election, whether or not I was going to correct mistakes of officers of election in adding up the votes. Now I state that the only answer I have ever given to any human being as to what I would do or not do has been that I intended to give the matter a fair and honest investigation and study all the law I could find on the point and without favor to any one or either side do just what in my humble opinion the law requires me to do, and any one who has or may say that I have said or intimated anything more than that is mistaken and stating what is not true. I have also stated all the time that I would decide and issue a certificate as soon as I could examine the law and satisfy myself as to my duty.

Monday, Tuesday and part of Wednesday I was so engaged in other matters I had but little time to give to it. I may have stated to some persons that certain corrections would likely be made by the Council when it meets but nothing except what I have stated as to what I would or would not do as City Clerk.

Not satisfied with all the cursing and vilifying that had been heaped upon me on Tuesday night a number of citizens saw proper to call and hold a public meeting to discuss my action, and what they termed my misdeeds and treachery, and at that meeting they passed a resolution demanding of me that I issue certificates of election to those announced as elected Saturday.

I have already shown that I made no official announcement. That meeting appointed a committee to wait on me and furnished me said resolution. I received it and read it to them so they could see it, and then I told them I would give the certificate. I told them frankly I would as soon as I could examine the law and satisfy myself as to my duty, and I thought legally entitled to it.

And in this connection I will say I have been informed that it has been circulated and told that I said if the citizens would sign a petition to me asking me to give a certificate to those mentioned in the above resolution I would do so. I here state that I never said it or anything like it.

I must say that the gentlemen composing that meeting and signing those resolutions have strange ideas as to the sworn duty of a public officer. My idea is that I decide this matter under my oath of office by what the law says and not by what certain or any number of citizens may demand of me to do, and with my views of the matter, and my sworn duty to demand that citizens by resolution might make would have the least influence in determining me what I would do.

While I have been a republican I have never defended that party or its members in any wrong or dishonesty if I knew it, especially in country or local matters. I have been conservative in my feelings and never did endorse or help carry out extreme party measures such as some intense bitter partisans of each party sometimes wish carried out.

Having made my decision the dispute now goes to another tribunal and I will have no more unpleasant decisions to make about it and therefore I think it is for every one to cool down as to me, but I will say that if hereafter any person or persons undertake to make false and slanderous statements about me, I shall hold them personally responsible and trace the author. I also wish to state that all the persons voted for on both the old and new ticket for Councilmen so far as I know and believe have during all this excitement acted gentlemanly and discreetly and have not encouraged or sanctioned any of the abuse that has been heaped on me.

In conclusion I wish to say that all the time I have been a city official I have considered it highly improper for any city official and especially in my position to take any part in selecting or trying or working to elect any certain man as Councilman and therefore I have never taken any part in city elections for councilmen or given or subscribed any money or other thing for others to do it.

The only part I have ever taken was to quietly cast my own vote which I do as soon as the polls are opened without waiting before I vote, and as a matter of courtesy to the Councilmen with whom I am officially associated during the year, just as partners and men in business together do, I have voted all the time so far as I now remember for the old board and without reference to their politics.

Now I ask pardon of the public for having presented myself to them in this communication but I felt that justice to myself required it.

Very Respectfully
H. R. LITTLE.

THE CITY ELECTION.
Justice to myself requires me to make this statement.
The Charter of the city of Hopkinsville, Sec. 10 Article 7 provides:
"The poll books of all elections in the city shall be returned by the several Sheriffs of elections to the Clerk of the city who shall keep them on file as a part of the records of his office, and issue certificates to the officers elected."

In county elections the General Statutes of Kentucky makes the County Judge, Clerk and Sheriff an examining or comparing board, and section 2 Article 3 of chapter 33 directs said officers as a board to "compare the polls, ascertain the correctness of the summing up of the votes and give certificates of election to those receiving the highest number of votes."

They are required to compare the polls and ascertain the correctness of the summing up of the votes. They are only ministerial officers (not judges) and can only do what the statute in plain terms directs them to do and no more.

As City Clerk I am only a ministerial officer and can only legally do what in the charter plain terms tells me to do. If a law is uncertain and liable to be construed two ways a ministerial officer should be very careful how he acts under it.

My opinion is, the charter does not provide for any comparing or canvassing board, but simply directs the City Clerk to certify and issue certificates of election to the officers elected, and then leaves the whole matter to the City Council to correct errors.

It only says the City Clerk shall file the book and issue certificates to the officers elected, therefore there is no authority to be found for the City Clerk to compare the poll book or sum or add up any of the votes or correct any kind of mistakes the officers of the election may have made, and whoever the officers of city election have certified are elected the City Clerk must certify and let all mistakes and errors go before the City Councilmen who by the charter Sec. 8, Art. 7 are made the "judges of the qualifications, election and returns of its members," and thereby made a canvassing board before whom all questions come up and by whom they are to be settled.

The City Charter, Sec. 2, Art. 7, provides "Officers of city election shall be governed in all matters not inconsistent with this charter, by the laws of this state governing elections for State officers." The foregoing provision only applies to officers of city elections who are the Judges, Clerks and Sheriffs of the election, and as the City Clerk is not an officer of the city election, does not extend to and include him.

The case of Hammett against Barnes & Co., 4 Bush, page 391, was a case that went to the Court of Appeals from Princeton, Ky., over the election of a town Marshal of Princeton at a town election and the Court of Appeals of Kentucky in that case decided that the general laws regulating examining boards in State and county elections don't apply to town elections.

We may have courage all of us
To face a cannon's ball.
To go where cowards dare not tread,
Or most death at duty's call;
But have we courage every time,
When self-interest is in sight,
To hew right square up to the line
And do the thing that's right?

Robbery at Trenton.
A burglar entered the residence of Mr. J. Ross Dickinson, of Trenton, one night last week and stole $100 from him and took about $70 from the pockets of his son upstairs. The door was locked, the thief having had a key or entered through a window.
On the next night the house was again entered. A hunting case watch that cost $350 was taken from a bureau drawer at the head of the bed. The upstairs rooms were also again entered. The clothing in Miss Dickinson's room was taken from the wardrobe and piled in the floor. Jas. Dickinson's clothing was thrown out of the window of his room and a pistol ball fired into the headboard of his bed. He awoke and saw a man jumping out of a window and fired five times at his retreating form without effect. The burglar is supposed to be some one living in the neighborhood, though there is as yet no clue to lead to the discovery of the guilty party.

Certificates Issued.
The city clerk yesterday issued certificates of election to Councilmen-elect Hill, Forbes, Dabney, Campbell, Gilliland and Brown. Mr. O. S. Brown, the last named, is ineligible under the charter, as he is both deputy sheriff and school trustee. In the event he is not allowed to qualify the board will elect his successor.

MARRIED.
Mr. Samuel B. McGee and Miss Eliza Clardy were married at the residence of the bride's mother, near Bennettsburg, on the 6th inst., Rev. J. G. Joiner officiating. The young couple will make their home near Roaring Spring, Trigg county.
Cards are out announcing the approaching marriage of a Hopkinsville young man as follows:
Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Stough request your presence at the marriage of their daughter
JENNIE

John Murphy, living near Daysville, Todd county, fell into the fire while drunk and was very badly burned before he could be pulled out. One leg had to be amputated and there is but little chance of his recovery. The accident occurred on Sunday last.
Clarksville Chronicle: Hopkinsville held a local election on Saturday, and there were two tickets out one the old fogey ticket; the other, the citizen's progressive ticket. The vote was for councilmen and the result showed from the new and three of the old candidates were elected. The city will now shake off some of its moss, and try and be some one.
"Dr. Jekyll" was a popular physician, respected by all who knew him, and the same time he was "Mr. Hyde" when without his mysterious compound, which made him presentable. "Dr. Jekyll" is a gentleman. "Mr. Hyde" is a monster of such hideous mien, that to be hated needs but to be seen." They will both be seen at the Opera House on next Tuesday evening.

In this issue appears an advertisement of Hanbery & Shryer, proprietors of the People's Warehouse, situated on the corner of 10th and Railroad streets. The gentlemen composing the firm are experienced to handle any and all tobacco entrusted to them will receive prompt and proper attention, and the highest market price realized. To those unacquainted, try them once.
The "Jekyll and Hyde" company will be here on the 18th.
It must not be imagined because Miss Adelaide Ober is a direct descendant of Aaron Burr, and Miss Alice King Hamilton, a descendant of Alexander Hamilton, who was killed in the famous duel by Burr, that there will be any trouble between them on the stage. Although they can trace their lineage back to those historical characters, perfect harmony exists between them at the present time.
Among the prominent warehouses in the city is that of Gant & Gaither Co's, located on Ninth street, near the depot. The gentlemen composing the company are all well known to the tobacco growers generally as being entirely reliable and have been to the best advantage to the farmer. For further information about this matter, read their card which appears in this issue, also see sales next week.

Peter Morgan lost two envelopes containing $25 on last Saturday. They were picked up near Foulk's coal yard by a little boy about 4 years old, a son of Ben Allen, col. The child's mother held $10 of the money until the owner was found. A woman named Lizzie Batten got possession of $10 more and after finding that the bill was not counterfeit as she supposed, claimed that she had lost it. When threatened with prosecution she agreed to pay the money back next week. The other five dollars was lost by the child soon after the envelope was opened.

Deaths.
A colored girl named Amanda Peppers died in Gainesville Wednesday.
Joseph Ledford, one of the best citizens of Trigg county, died a few days ago, at his home near Roaring Spring.
Edmund Kirkpatrick, one of the oldest and most reputable colored men in the city, died Wednesday at the residence of his son-in-law, Peter Postell, aged about 80 years.
Mrs. Mary Hester died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. G. B. Coombs near Lafayette, on the 10th inst. of pneumonia. She was about 70 years of age and had been a resident of that vicinity all of her lifetime. She was a most estimable lady and for sixty years had been a devout and consistent member of the Little River Baptist Church. In the absence of her pastor, her funeral services were conducted by Rev. Israel Joiner, of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, on Tuesday.
Mr. John Morris and Miss Sallie McCulloch were married yesterday afternoon at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. S. H. McCulloch, by Rev. W. L. Nourse. After the ceremony the happy pair, accompanied by a large number of friends, left for the home of the groom, on the Russellville pike, where a magnificent supper awaited them.

The Young Woman's Society of the Methodist Church have opened a Bazaar in the Russell corner and tonight will set a record. Only 25 cents will be charged for the supper. Admission free. Drop in to-day and see if there is not something on exhibition that you need.
Josh Spidel, aged 15, killed himself while fooling with a pistol at Henderson.

BIOGRAPHICAL.

Successful Career of One of Hopkinsville's Young Ministers.
On the 14th of May, 1884, the Hopkinsville Baptist church secured the services of a young minister named J. N. Prethitt, who entered upon his duties as pastor of the church. He had previously had but two years experience, having graduated from one of the leading theological seminaries in 1882. He came as the immediate successor of the late Rev. Dr. Thos. G. Kern, one of the ablest and oldest divines in his denomination in the West, who had for many years held the pastorate of the church, but whose failing health forced him to resign. Mr. Prethitt found the church with a membership of 240 and though a stranger to his congregation and charge he began work with a zeal and earnestness that soon began to tell in results. In a short time he had endeared himself to his entire membership and under his able ministry the church began to grow steadily in membership. Several revivals have been held within the last four years, the last being in the months of October and November of the present year. Mr. Prethitt conducted the meeting with-out assistance for two weeks, during which time there were 24 professions and as many additions to the church. Rev. H. M. Wearnton, of Baltimore, then came to his assistance for ten days and 29 other persons united with the church. Since that time there have been 4 other additions, making an increase in the membership of 57 within thirty days. Probably 20 other persons professed religion during this great revival who have since united with other churches. At the beginning of the meeting the services were held in the prayer meeting room, but it was soon necessary to move to the main room above and later as the interest increased the meetings were held in the Opera House, which, with a seating capacity of more than 600, was packed to overflowing night after night. Mr. Prethitt's entire ministry since coming to Hopkinsville has been eminently successful. Although many of the older members and a number of the younger ones have died and others have moved away, the net increase in the membership during his pastorate has been 170 and the church now has 410 members.

Mr. Prethitt is yet a young man, being about 35 years of age. He is a minister of great force and fervency and has special adaptability for evangelistic work. He is a pleasant conversationalist and never preaches long enough to tire the most impatient congregation. He does not use manuscript in the pulpit, but speaks from notes only and often without references of any kind. He is a close student and his discourses are all the result of careful preparation. Socially he is genial, affable and universally popular. He exerts a great influence for good over his members, especially the young men, to almost all of whom he has personally endeared himself.
During the present year Mr. Prethitt has received two flattering calls to churches in other states at largely increased salaries. One of those was in Los Angeles, California, to a church paying $2,000 a year. Believing that this is the field for his greatest usefulness, Mr. Prethitt declined to leave his church here, though his salary still remains at the figure fixed when the church had only about half its present wealth and membership.

Mr. Prethitt was married about two years ago to Miss Fannie Clardy, only daughter of Dr. J. D. Clardy, one of the leading citizens of Christian county.

INTO THE COURTS.

A Foolish Suit to Court Councilman Dabney Out.
There has been a great deal of excitement over the city election all the week. The friends of the new board men fearing that F. W. Dabney would be deprived of the certificate of election by the City Clerk on the ground of alleged incorrectness in the returns, held a mass meeting on Tuesday night and drew up a protest against withholding Dabney's certificate, which was signed by 85 voters of all parties. This was presented to Judge Little Wednesday, as was also a petition signed by other voters calling upon him to issue certificates according to the returns and citing him to the law on the point. Judge Little gave his decision in the matter yesterday and issued the certificates, but A. H. Anderson, by his attorney Harry Ferguson, filed mandamus proceedings in the Common Pleas Court demanding a recount and asking that the certificate issued to Dabney be issued to himself. It is not a contest requiring the purging of the polls, but two points only are raised. One is that the vote of L. E. Watson counted for Dabney be taken from him and the other that the John Williams vote rejected by the judges be counted for Anderson. The petition asks that the case be heard Dec. 24th.

Prof. Kellogg and other officers of the O. V. R. R. were there Thursday, viewing the route between Hopkinsville and Yellow Creek. Mr. Kelsey said he was very much pleased with their trip.

Dr. Kenner says he will not let any R. R. run between his residence and well.
The Adams Express Company has settled its suit with David S. Fotheringham by paying him $8,500 as a compromise on a $12,000 judgment. It will be remembered that Fotheringham while express agent was bound "gagged and robbed of $85,000 of the company's money and was imprisoned on a charge of being himself an accomplice in the alleged robbery. The money recovered by his damage suit will pay him pretty well for the wrong done to his feelings and at the same time serve as a vindication of his character for honesty.

Senator M. C. Butler, of South Carolina, has been re-elected for another term.

TO PRESERVE THE SOFTNESS OF FLANNEL GARMENTS, FOLLOW CAREFULLY THESE DIRECTIONS FOR WASHING.

Dissolve thoroughly in boiling water some IVORY SOAP, shaved fine. Add sufficient warm water to wash the flannels in one by one.

Don't rub any soap on the flannels, but knead them well in the solution.

Don't rinse them in plain water; use a fresh supply of the solution, warm, and well blued, for the purpose.

Don't wring tightly with the hands, use a clothes-wringer. The freer from water you get these garments the softer they will be.

Hang them out immediately, if the weather will permit; if not, dry before the fire. If left to stand wet, the flannel will certainly shrink.

Never wash flannel in water too hot to bear your hand in.

Never rinse them in cold water.

Always use IVORY SOAP, it is the best, much experience has proved this.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the Ivory," they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable quality of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

UNDERGROUND WATERS.

The important fact that they are the formation of minerals.

The mode of formation, as Buffon said, the genesis of minerals is one of the most interesting questions of their history. But the problem could not be approached until geologists had furnished precise data on the conditions of their bearing.

Recent geological solutions have recently been obtained in the case of a certain number of mineral species. Synthetic experiment, placing itself in the circumstances that seem to have presided at their formation, has succeeded in reproducing them, with their crystalline forms, and their essential characteristics, and has thus completed the demonstration of their origin. By means of this method of demonstration, we have been able to ascertain that many minerals are due to the action of subterranean waters. From the most ancient epochs, these waters have been circulating through the crust of the earth, where they have left, at a multitude of points, signs revealing the part they have played, and the course they have taken, even more clearly than contemporary phenomena have done.

The sedimentary beds, formed like the deposits which the sea spreads every day in the bottom of its basin, are often distinguished from one another, even at first sight, by certain exterior characters. The differences are for the most part produced by the action of subterranean waters, as is demonstrated by the animal and vegetable fossils which were for a long time designated as petrifications, or rather, by the chemical changes which these fossilized bodies have evidently undergone.

Here, shells and corals, showing forms perfectly preserved down to their slightest details, are no longer composed of carbonate of lime, as they certainly were during the life of the animal to which they belong, but are essentially different substances, quartz having entirely taken the place of the calcium carbonate. There are also other minerals, such as pyrites and sulphate of barium, which have been penetrated and crystallized within the cavities which the bodies of these invertebrates occupied.—Prof. G. A. Daubree, in Popular Science Monthly.

Among the most interesting this year was one addressed to Charles Dickens, the lecturer, requesting a copy of "your latest novel, 'Cricket on the Hearth.'"

Scrofula Cured.

LEXINGTON, VA., July 14, 1888. The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga. Gentlemen:—One of your representatives has just asked me about your medicine, and having used it I am in position to say something about it.

Nine years ago Scrofula made its appearance in my family. Two of my children—one a boy of six and a girl of four—were terribly afflicted with this terrible disease. My family physician treated the malady for a time, but with no success. In my county paper I saw your medicine advertised, and began using it, and in no time improvement was observed. My children to-day are free from the trouble, and I am never without a bottle of S. S. in my house.

JOHN WILLIAMS.
